HOW TO CREATE GREAT SMALL GROUP QUESTIONS FROM SERMONS

© 2024, Dr. Gavin Adams, Church Accelerator Community

The author of Hebrews is emphasizing the power of God's Word to reveal the true intentions and thoughts of the human heart. This passage underscores the belief that Scripture is not just a static text but a dynamic force that interacts with readers in a transformative way.

What this Passage Means to Us Today:

Community is built on the foundation of transparency and authenticity, which are cultivated through daily devotions and the study of God's Word. As we allow Scripture to "study us," it reveals our innermost thoughts and attitudes, shaping us to be genuine members of a community. This process is essential for creating a space where people can connect deeply and support one another.

Questions for Reflection:

1. How does your daily engagement with Scripture influence your role in your community?
2. In what ways can you allow God's Word to make you more transparent and genuine with others?
3. How might the community benefit from members who are shaped by the active and living Word of God?

Prayer:

Gracious God, thank You for Your Word that is alive and active in our lives. May it penetrate our hearts, revealing our true selves, and guide us in building a community grounded in authenticity. Help us to be transparent with one another, fostering a sense of genuine fellowship and support. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Devotion 2: Sacrifice and Sharing in Community

Devotion Passage:

Acts 2:46-47 (NIV)

"Every day they continued to meet together in the temple courts. They broke bread in their homes and ate together with glad and sincere hearts, praising God and enjoying the favor of all the people. And the Lord added to their number daily those who were being saved."

Historical Context For the Passage:

The early Christian community described in Acts was characterized by a radical form of fellowship. They met daily, shared meals, and participated in the Lord's Supper with joy and generosity. This passage reflects the communal life of the early church, which was marked by unity, worship, and mutual care.

What this Passage Means to Us Today:

The early church's example of sacrifice and sharing is a powerful model for today's communities. By intentionally cultivating a heart for community, we can experience the joy of giving and the deep connections that come from sharing our lives with others. This may involve making sacrifices, but the result is a vibrant, authentic community that draws others to Christ.

Questions for Reflection:

1. What sacrifices might you be called to make to contribute to the well-being of your community?
2. How can you practice sharing your resources and life with others in a way that reflects the early church's example?
3. What steps can you take to cultivate a heart for community in your daily life?

Prayer:

Lord, inspire us to follow the example of the early church in generosity and fellowship. Give us the courage to make sacrifices for the sake of community and to share our lives with others. May our actions reflect Your love and draw others to Your saving grace. Amen.

Devotion 3: The Pursuit of Authentic Community

Devotion Passage:

1 John 1:7 (NIV)

"But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus, his Son, purifies us from all sin."

Historical Context For the Passage:

John the Apostle is addressing the Christian community, emphasizing the importance of living in the truth of God's light. This fellowship in the light is not only with God but also with one another, and it is made possible through the cleansing power of Jesus' sacrifice.

What this Passage Means to Us Today:

Authentic community is not a passive state but a dynamic pursuit. It requires intentional actions, such as self-disclosure and taking relational risks, to deepen connections with others. As we walk in the light of Christ, we are called to foster genuine relationships that reflect God's love and grace.

Questions for Reflection:

1. Are you actively pursuing authentic community by walking in the light of Christ?
2. What risks might you need to take to deepen your relationships within your community?
3. How does the purification we receive through Jesus enable us to have true fellowship with one another?

Prayer:

Heavenly Father, guide us to walk in Your light and to seek authentic fellowship with our brothers and sisters in Christ. Help us to take the necessary steps and risks to deepen our communal bonds. May the blood of Jesus purify us and unite us in Your love. Amen.

Devotion 4: Community as a Reflection of God's Relational Nature

Devotion Passage:

Genesis 1:27 (NIV)

"So God created mankind in his own image, in the image of God he created them; male and female he created them."

Historical Context For the Passage:

The book of Genesis describes the creation of humanity as being made in the image of God. This foundational concept establishes humans as inherently relational, reflecting the communal nature of the triune God—Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

What this Passage Means to Us Today:

Our yearning for community is a reflection of our creation in the image of a relational God. We are designed to connect deeply with God and with a few others in authentic relationships. Our wholeness and aliveness are most fully realized when we engage sincerely and fully in community.

Questions for Reflection:

1. How does understanding that you are created in the image of a relational God impact your view of community?
2. In what ways can you foster deeper connections with God and those around you?
3. What steps will you take to commit to authentic community in your life?

Prayer:

Creator God, thank You for making us in Your image, designed for deep and meaningful relationships. Help us to embrace our relational nature and to seek authentic community with You and with others. May we find our wholeness and purpose in these divine connections. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Devotion 5: Community as a Witness to the World

Devotion Passage:

Matthew 5:14-16 (NIV)

"You are the light of the world. A town built on a hill cannot be hidden. Neither do people light a lamp and put it under a bowl. Instead they put it on its stand, and it gives light to everyone in the house. In the same way, let your light shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your Father in heaven."

Historical Context For the Passage:

Jesus is teaching His disciples about the influence they are to have in the world. He uses the metaphor of light to describe the visible and impactful nature of their lives as His followers. Their good deeds are to be a testimony to the world, pointing to God's glory.

What this Passage Means to Us Today:

The way we live in community can be a powerful witness to those outside of it. When we cultivate authentic community, characterized by love, generosity, and joy, it becomes a beacon of light that draws others to Christ. Our communal life together should be so compelling that it captures the attention of the world and adds to the fellowship of believers.

Questions for Reflection:

1. How does your community life serve as a light to those around you?
2. What can you do to ensure that your community reflects the love and generosity of Christ?
3. How might your community practices lead others to glorify God?

Prayer:

Father, help us to be a light in this world through our communal life. May our actions and the way we live together point others to You and bring glory to Your name. Empower us to reflect Your love and grace in all that we do. In Jesus' name, Amen.
